NEW GERMAN OFFENSIVE IS BELIEVED AIMED AT MOSCOW

New York Yankees Try to Clinch Series in Fifth Game

OFFER OF PEACE IS PREDICTED

London Sources Report Drive Launched "On a Very Considerable Scale" All Along Front; Activity in Leningrad Sector Dwindles As Nazis Head in New Direction

MAYOR OF PRAGUE IS EXECUTED FOR PLOT

By the Associated Press
A vast new German offensive with Moscow perhaps as its principal goal and the siege of Leningrad subordinated, appeared to be emerging today on the long eastern front.

It was possible that Germany was straining every muscle for a swift victory in Russia so as to be able to present Britain and her allies with a matter accomplished and an offer of "peace" before the end of the year.

Information reaching Cairo, including that brought by an American just arrived from Germany, controlled territory was that Hitler would offer peace to both Britain and the United States before 1942, ignoring Britain meanwhile except to carry out reprisals in kind for air attacks on Germany. All this pivots immediately, of course, on the chance Hitler has of knocking Russia out of the war and building his "new order" in Europe.

The forecast of the peace offer gained considerable credence in both British and American diplomatic quarters at Cairo.

Authoritative sources in London which have been calling the turn of the gigantic struggle, now in its 16th week, said the offensive "on a very considerable scale" had been launched all along the front, with the possible exception of the Leningrad area where German activity seemed to have dwindled.

The offensive may be the "gigantic" operation of which Adolf Hitler hinted in his sportsmanlike speech last Friday. At least that was the line taken by the German commentators.

Berlin, however, gave no indication. (Turn to Page Six)

WEATHER WILL CONTINUE WARM

By the Associated Press
Continued warm weather was forecast for eastern Pennsylvania today, prolonging a weekend heat wave that pushed the mercury to new October highs in some cities, aggravating a long drought that has threatened to ruin crops.

Harrisburg's 97-degree reading made the city the hottest in the state. It was the highest for October 5 since 1922 when the mercury hit 89. Lancaster's 96 surpassed the former mark of 93 in 1900.

Discomfort of stench from the low Schuylkill river was added to oppressive humidity, and 95.6 degree heat in Philadelphia. The October record for the city was 91 established in 1922.

Temperatures were lower in Pittsburgh where showers kept the mercury down to 84. More scattered showers were predicted for the western part of the state today.

SEA CONFLICT IS HEARD OFF BRAZIL COAST

Heavy Cannonading by Unidentified Ships Reported By Fishermen, Leading To Belief That Running Battle Has Been Fought

SEARCHLIGHTS SEEN

By E. M. CASTRO
Maragogi, Brazil, Oct. 6.—(P)—Sound of heavy cannonading at sea, reported by fishermen at Macao over the weekend, led to belief here today that unidentified ships which apparently fought a 30-minute battle off the coast Friday had come to grips again.

The reports from Macao, some 60 miles south of Maragogi, said the beams of searchlights were clearly seen stabbing the sky Saturday night as thunder as of gunfire rolled in from the sea.

Residents of this town of 3,000, many of whom said they saw ships off the coast Friday evening when similar sounds were heard, were convinced that a running battle had been fought.

Former Mayor Ayres Costa, commenting on the Friday incident, declared:

"I haven't the slightest doubt that this was a naval combat, as shots characteristic of a cannonade were clearly heard by all the populace."

Some residents said they had heard as many as 30 separate shots. (Turn to Page Six)

MISHAPS IN THE STATE TAKE AT LEAST 13 LIVES

Terrific Head-On Collision of Automobile and Truck Near Indiana Kills Three Men Returning Home From a Fishing Trip

NEARBY FATALITIES

By the Associated Press
At least 13 Pennsylvanians died in week-end accidents, three of them burning to death in a highway crash.

A terrific head-on collision of an automobile and a truck near Indiana killed Vernon Shinko, Mike Chiodo, and Tony Barletta, all 17, as they returned home to Homer City from a fishing trip.

The driver of the car in which the three were riding apparently didn't see the truck, Coroner Edward L. Fleming said he was told by truck driver James Recupero, 21, Indiana, who escaped injury.

The wrecked machine burst into flames before the truck driver and his helper, Harry Vinton, 18, Indiana, were able to get them out. The truck also was damaged badly by the fire before a wrecking car finally pulled it away from the burning automobile.

Out-of-state mishaps killed two Pennsylvania soldiers. Corporal John W. Turner, 41, Johnstown, member of Company F, 16th Infantry, suffered fatal injuries when a car driven by another soldier hit a tree at Littleton, Mass. Private Frank R. Mullott, Shippensburg, stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., suffered a similar fate when a command car he was driving overturned.

A locomotive on the Olean creek trestle of the Pennsylvania railroad crushed to death Merle A. Ostrander, 27, native of Fort All. (Turn to Page Six)

HEART AILMENT FATAL TO NOTED LIBERAL JURIST

Former Associated Justice Of U. S. Supreme Court Dies Sunday Evening; Retired From High Bench In February, 1939

FUNERAL IS PRIVATE

Washington, Oct. 6.—(P)—Death has ended the career of Louis Dembitz Brandeis, noted liberal jurist and first Jew ever named to the Supreme Court.

The former associate justice, long a sufferer from a heart ailment, died shortly after 7 o'clock last night. It was heart trouble which prompted his retirement from the Supreme Court on February 13, 1939, and a severe attack at his home here Wednesday led to his death. He was 84.

The family announced that the funeral, for which arrangements were incomplete, would be strictly private and requested that no flowers be sent. Memorial services would be held later, the announcement said.

Brandeis, who summed up his own philosophy of life as "high thinking and simple living," had no experience as a judge when President Wilson nominated him for associate justice in 1916 but he was nationally known for his activity in and out of court on behalf of labor unions and against "high finance." Particularly notable was his battle against a privately owned electric utility which sought to unite eastern rail, trolley and in Miami. The most serious damage reported as the storm reached the coast was at Fort Lauderdale, where power failures disrupted all but essential activities.

Small fires, caused by short circuits, were reported in Fort Lauderdale and in Miami.

As the storm moved inland usually the signal for diminishing winds—the weather bureau made no move to minimize its earlier reports.

Developing with unprecedented speed in the Atlantic almost 1,000 miles from Miami, the hurricane gathered force as it struck across the scattered Bahama Islands and aimed its mightiest blow at Florida hardly 36 hours before it first was reported.

Steadily-blowing winds of 75 miles an hour, with a peak gust of 102 miles an hour, pounded the Bahama capital of Nassau for two hours last night, disrupting electric power in the little community of 20,000 persons.

Bahamian buildings, including government house, official residence of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, now vacationing, were nailed up tight. Communication with Miami by wireless was almost uninterrupted and, pending (Turn to Page Nine)

The measure was proposed by Rep. Gore (D-Tenn.), prominent young member of the house banking and currency committee which is now considering administration-supported legislation designed to combat inflation.

Gore, in offering his own measure, used the opportunity to condemn the administration bill as "weak-kneed and piece-meal legislation."

The price-ceilings, under the Gore proposal, would follow generally the prices in effect during the current week—the Oct. 6-12 period being recommended as the "base period."

Under legislation endorsed by Leon Henderson, administrator of the office of price administration, the fixing of ceilings would be left to the administrator's discretion and would not cover either wages or profits from defense contracts.

Gore drafted his bill after frequent conferences with economists. He sought advice from time to time from Bernard M. Baruch, presidential adviser and chairman (Turn to Page Six)

FLORIDA HARD HIT BY STORM

Tropical Hurricane Which Passed Inland Early Today Is Said to Have Inflicted Only Minor Property Damage; Winds Expected to Continue Strong for Next 12 Hours

STARTS 1,000 MILES OFF ATLANTIC COAST

Miami, Fla., Oct. 6.—A threatening tropical hurricane that beat at Nassau for two hours last night crossed the lower Florida east coast early today with greatly diminished force, apparently inflicting only minor property damage.

The weather bureau reported the storm, with a very small center, passed inland at 5:45 a. m. (EST) about 14 miles south of Miami and continued its course toward Fort Myers and other gulf coast points.

Nassau and Miami reported damages to small houses, disturbance of power supplies in some sections, but no major destruction of property and no loss of life.

The center of the hurricane apparently passed Goulds, between Miami and Homestead, but local sources said the chief damage there was to the rapidly-ripening citrus plants.

The weather bureau warned that high winds would continue in Miami and over central south Florida for several hours.

Hurricane warnings were ordered down at 7 a. m. (EST) and southwest storm warnings were hoisted from Key West to Vero Beach where, the weather bureau said, winds would continue strong for the next 12 hours.

The advisory said the storm, decreasing slightly in intensity, would reach the Florida gulf coast between Fort Myers and Everglades City about noon. Hurricane warnings remained displayed from Everglades City to Punta Gorda.

In the Miami area, the winds were diminishing slowly. They piled big waves in Biscayne Bay, washed over the three causeways linking Miami Beach with the mainland and, for two hours after the storm center passed, blocked motor travel to and from the beach.

In Miami, the highest sustained wind reported was 63 miles an hour with occasional gusts of 75 miles an hour—far less than the 102 reported from Nassau where the hurricane passed eight hours earlier.

The most serious damage reported as the storm reached the coast was at Fort Lauderdale, where power failures disrupted all but essential activities.

Small fires, caused by short circuits, were reported in Fort Lauderdale and in Miami.

YVONNE MARIE FARRELL Warren

Occasionally it looks like the light of heaven was allowed to shine upon the face of a child. In this picture there is that infinite, indefinable something that makes you feel that angels really live about us. Yvonne Marie's hazel brown eyes, light brown hair, 18 pounds of sunshine at the age of seven months, is evidence of the wealth of beauty she possesses. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Farrell. Mr. Lewis J. Farrell, grandparent of Jamestown, is an ardent supporter of this lovely little candidate's campaign. She is a bright little baby and likes to be on the outside. She loves pretty colored flowers, and has many supporters in her quest for the title of "Queen of Babyland."

WOMAN'S DEATH NEAR STARBRICK IS INVESTIGATED

Sudden demise of Mrs. Leah Burst Some Time Saturday Night Believed To Have Caused Husband To Become Temporarily Unbalanced

BODY IS FOUND TODAY

County officials and state motor police are investigating the circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Leah Burst, 47, wife of Walter Burst, at their home on the Weiler road near Starbrick whose body was found this morning slumped over the tub in the bath room. The attending physician and authorities were of the opinion that death probably occurred some time Saturday night.

Mr. Burst is a patient in the Warren General Hospital receiving treatment for "lacrations" and bruises about the body. Face and head, which are believed to have been received when he collapsed in the bath room of the home after the death of the wife.

The plight of the couple was discovered about 8:20 o'clock this morning when Mr. and Mrs. Richard Olson, who reside a short distance from the Burst home, went to the residence after they became alarmed over the fact that neither Mr. or Mrs. Burst had been seen since Saturday. All doors were locked on the inside and it was with considerable effort that Mr. Burst succeeded in reaching the front door from the second story to permit Mr. and Mrs. Olson to get into the house. A physician was called and in turn the officials notified.

The coroner was accompanied to the home by Patrolman K. W. Lower and B. A. Reeder, who were joined soon afterwards by District Attorney J. H. Goldstein and Sheriff W. C. Stuart.

The authorities could secure no coherent statement of what had happened in the home. A Warren physician stated that he had been called to the home Saturday evening.

Barank disappeared March 31 while high-jacking from Pittsburgh toward his Cambria county home. The missing persons bureau here was notified at that time by his brother, Peter Barank of Coraopolis.

Chief County Detective Jerry Deasy, investigating possibility of foul play, said two hats were found, one under the skeleton and one nearby. He theorized Barank might have been struck by an automobile and carried or walked into the underbrush. No weapon was found at the site.

The man wore an overcoat, heavy sweater, bow tie and low shoes. Identification was made from a birth certificate found in the clothing.

The remains were brought to the county morgue for further examination.

FILIBUSTER IN SENATE AGAINST CHANGE IS SEEN

Opponents of Modification For Neutrality Act Discuss Use of Weapon As President Roosevelt Ponders Recommendations

RECALLS '17 FIGHT

BULLETIN
Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 6.—(P)—The Temporary White House announced today that Secretary Hull, Vice President Wallace, five senators and two house members would confer with President Roosevelt in Washington tomorrow on revision of the neutrality law. Mr. Roosevelt has indicated that the meeting would enable him to reach a decision on whether to recommend that the law be scrapped or permit the arming of American merchantmen and, perhaps, to let American vessels sail into combat zones from which they now are barred.

Washington, Oct. 6.—(P)—Talk of a Senate filibuster against any change in the neutrality act arose today even before President Roosevelt reached a final decision on what modifications to recommend.

The talk was general. Anti-administration forces debated use of the filibuster as a weapon in their fight to keep the act unchanged, while those in the administration camp anticipated the possibility of such strategy.

The threat caused several senators to recall the historic filibuster of March, 1917, when a band of 12 senators talked to death the legislation which President Wilson sought for arming of American merchantmen. That bill was known popularly as "the armed neutrality bill."

President Roosevelt has arranged to discuss possible changes in the neutrality act with congressional leaders of both parties tomorrow before deciding what to request. Capitol Hill reports, meanwhile, were that the chief executive had tentatively decided to ask only such modification as would authorize the arming of American merchant shipping. Despite this, however, a majority of the Senate leaders at tomorrow's conference were expected to urge that virtual repeal of the act be sought.

This group of leaders, which includes Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the influential Senate foreign relations committee, wants both arms and freedom of the seas for vessels flying the United States flag. The law, as it stands, prevents the arming of ships and forbids merchantmen to travel to belligerent ports or through waters of belligerent nations.

FIND REMAINS OF MAN MISSING SINCE MARCH 31

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6.—(P)—Allegheny county detectives were equipped with few clues today in seeking a solution to the death of Charles A. Barank, 28, of Patton, a former state highway department laborer whose skeleton was found in Kennedy township yesterday.

The remains were discovered in a tangle of underbrush 200 yards off heavily-traveled Route 51 by two men hunting for mushrooms. A deputy coroner said Barank's skull appeared to have been fractured.

Barank disappeared March 31 while high-jacking from Pittsburgh toward his Cambria county home. The missing persons bureau here was notified at that time by his brother, Peter Barank of Coraopolis.

Chief County Detective Jerry Deasy, investigating possibility of foul play, said two hats were found, one under the skeleton and one nearby. He theorized Barank might have been struck by an automobile and carried or walked into the underbrush. No weapon was found at the site.

After working the count to two balls and one strike, Sturm opened with a single to left center and now has his safety in every game of the series. With the count two strikes and one ball, Rolfe grounded to Reese who threw to Coscarart forcing Sturm, but the relay to Camilli was slow and wide preventing a double play. Henrich, who had struck out yesterday for what would have been the final out of the ball game except that Owen failed to catch the ball, waited out a base on balls in his first trip at bat and Owen missed the fourth ball which rolled into the Yankee dugout almost duplicating the dramatic situation yesterday.

On the first pitch Riggs tipped the ball foul and it struck Dickey, who fell to the ground in obvious pain while Manager McCarthy and the Yankee players crowded around him. He apparently had been hit in the groin. After laying on the ground a few minutes, Dickey was helped to his feet by his teammates, tightened up his chest protector, donned his mask and play was resumed. With the count two balls and one strike, Riggs shot a hot grounder to Gordon and was (Turn to Page Nine)

HOTEL WALKOUT IN SIXTH DAY

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6.—(P)—A strike of 2,400 service workers at Pittsburgh's eight major hotels entered the sixth day today, with the strikers awaiting a new compromise proposal to their demands for wage increases of 20 per cent.

The workers, members of the AFL Hotel and Restaurant Employees International Alliance and the International Bartenders League, rejected during the week-end the hotel operators offer to pay 11 per cent more for six months and 20 per cent more for the following six months.

Pay, which ranges from $20 monthly for bellhops to $150 monthly for cooks and bartenders, would have been fixed by arbitration, if necessary. After the first year of the new contract under the rejected plan.

Contest Officials Grati- fied Over Interest Shown In Baby Election

20 per cent in value each week, the contest until the last week, when each coupon will count for but 200 votes—instead of the present value of 500 votes; incidentally, the publisher guarantees there will be no "special" vote of voters other than those already advertised during the entire election. There will be no "Dark Horse" candidates—the child who wins will be a resident of Warren county or its environs.

Cash good hard coin of the realm, will be paid parents of the winning candidates as quickly as the totals can be verified when the election ends Saturday, November 22nd at 10 p. m.

Baby's pictures are published in accordance with the amount of interest shown in a child. Obviously it would be unfair to print the picture of a baby in whom little or no interest is shown and omit that of a child who is being voted for by many people.

There is no cost of any kind in nominating a baby - and every baby's picture is taken free of charge by Baustow's Studio, the official photographer of the Favorite Baby Election.

The interest of the entire community is focusing on the "Baby Derby" - folks who just don't get excited about anything - are finding themselves stopping in front of the three windows full of baby pictures selecting a "Favorite" and casting votes.

OBITUARY

BLAKE SHIMMEL
Sheffield, Oct. 6.—Rev. Carl Gronquist, pastor of the Bethany Lutheran church, will conduct funeral services being held this afternoon in the Borden Funeral Home for Blake Shimmel, aged, retired woodsman who died early Saturday morning after a month's illness. Burial will be in the cemetery at Barnes.

Mr. Shimmel, who suffered from a heart ailment and who had been confined to his bed for the past four weeks, was found dead in his room at the old Sheffield House about 1:20 a. m. by a youth who had been dispatched to the room with some food sent by the landlady. A physician, who had called on Mr. Shimmel Friday, ascribed the death to natural causes.

A native of Clearfield county, Mr. Shimmel was 79 years at death. He is survived by two sons, residing in or near Buffalo, and a daughter, said to be a resident of Altoona.

WILLIAM H. GRAY
Youngsville, Oct. 6.—William H. Gray, one of the community's aged and highly respected citizens, passed away at his home on Ford street at nine o'clock this morning.

He leaves one son and one daughter, Frank Gray and Mrs. Emory Coover, both of Youngsville; two grandsons, Harrison Coover, of Bradford, and Ralph Coover, of Washington, Pa.

Funeral services will be held from the family home on Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Dwight Jack, Methodist minister, and followed by interment in the local cemetery.

MRS. PAUL SCHRECKENGOST
Funeral services in memory of Bertha Faye Schreckengost, wife of Paul Schreckengost, who died at her home in Cleveland, O., Saturday morning, will be held Tuesday morning at ten o'clock from the Johnson Funeral Home in Brookville.

Besides her husband, she leaves one daughter, Charlette, of Cleveland; her father, Adam McComb, in Brookville; three brothers and four sisters in Brookville, one brother in Oklahoma and a sister in Mansfield, O.

STEPHEN J. HAYES
Stephen J. Hayes, 108 Market street, died at five o'clock this morning in the Warren General Hospital following a long illness. He was born in London, England, and came to this country in 1911. He was married in 1913 to Mary G. Cleveland, of Smethport, who survives with one daughter, Rebecca A.

He was in the service of the Warren State Hospital for 18 years. He was a member of the Warren Council, Knights of Columbus, and the Warren Lodge, Local Order of Moose.

Removal has been made to the Lutz Funeral Home, where friends may call. Funeral services will be held at nine o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Joseph's church, followed by interment in St. Elizabeth's cemetery in Smethport.

MRS. WARD C. SMITH
Mrs. Elizabeth Kirwin Smith, wife of Ward C. Smith, 113 Central avenue, died at the home at 1:50 a. m. today following an illness of over two years duration. She was born in Glade township and spent her entire life in this vicinity. A member of the Holy Redeemer church, Mrs. Smith was a charter member of Catholic Daughters of America.

Mrs. Smith is survived by her husband, three sons, LeRoy F. of Salamanca, N. Y., Douglas W. of Midland, Mich., and Harold W. of this city, and six grand children.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from the Holy Redeemer church with interment in St. Joseph's cemetery.

W.S.C.S. MEETING AT YOUNGSVILLE WELL ATTENDED

Youngsville, Oct. 4.—The Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service met Friday afternoon in the church parlors. Mrs. R. H. Knapp led the devotional period. Mrs. H. H. Husted led the business session. Plans were considered for a rummage sale in the Day building, Oct. 17th and 18th. It was decided to make payment on the carpet fund for the new parsonage.

Announcement was made of the district meeting to be held in Jamestown, Tuesday Oct. 7th. An invitation was extended to the ladies to attend.

An interesting report of the recent conference meeting was given. The report was written by the delegate Mrs. Oscar Johnson and read by the president, Mrs. Husted. Several other ladies in attendance at the Oil City meeting gave brief reports.

Rev. Dwight Jack gave a very interesting review of the address of Dr. Depp. A duet solo by Miss Barbara Knapp opened the program. Short stories were read or told of missionary activities in China, Africa, Europe and America.

Light refreshments were served by the committee consisting of the officers.

WITH THE CIRCLES

The Blue Circle met Thurs. afternoon with Mrs. Vera Jones. Mrs. C. E. Anderson was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Violet Circle. The Orange Circle is postponing their meeting at Mrs. Chas. Dyer's scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 7 to the next day, Wednesday, Oct. 8th. The change is made so as not to conflict with the district meeting in Jamestown.

LOCALS

Miss Dorothy Moore underwent an appendicitis operation in the Warren General Hospital Tuesday. Jay Cooper, one of Youngsville's older residents, is very ill.

Mrs. Wade Ransom entertained the girls of her church school class at a tureen dinner at her home Thursday night.

A group of the Many Trails Riding Club from Jamestown, Warren, Youngsville and Corry are planning for a week end camping trip.

Mrs. Joe Swanson is still confined to her home with illness. Her friends hope she may soon be better.

Mrs. Leota Day entertained her bridge club Friday afternoon.

TRY COMPANY CLASS

The Try Company class of the United Brethren Sunday school met Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the church basement for the monthly business meeting and tureen supper. The president, Mrs. Lue Haight, was in charge of the meeting and devotions were led by the teacher, Mrs. Ethel Jackson. After a song service and special music, a service in the form of a love offering was conducted by the teacher. Each member made a poster picturing something that could be used for food purposes, taken from the Bible, with its accompanying scripture and the book from which it was taken. The posters were exchanged and as each member received her poster, a coin was dropped into the loving cup. A large attendance is reported and a fine offering was raised for church purposes. Several new members were added to the class roll.

Sheffield Twins

LINDA & LARRY BOARDMAN Sheffield

Here is that "combination" candidate. The writer is the father of twins and knows that two are more beautiful than one. They have two different thoughts at the same time and working as a collective candidate twins will have the ability to promote their candidacy and garner the votes. The appeal goes both ways in this case. Linda has brown eyes, dark brown hair, and Larry has brown eyes, and dark brown hair. Linda weighs 39 pounds, and Larry 37 pounds. The happy parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boardman, live at Sheffield. Mrs. Stella Boardman, Sheffield, and Mr. and Mrs. John Pierson, of Saybrook, are grandparents. They are three-and-one-half-years-old, devoted to each other and always play together. Already these twins are gathering many supporters. Their friendliness and wholesomeness is genuine, and it is carrying them forward into the hearts of many voters.

PRIZES AWARDED TO GOLFERS AT COUNTRY CLUB

At the concluding stag dinner at the Conewago Valley Country Club last Thursday evening, 1941 championship golf play was officially concluded with the awarding of prizes for the club title and runners-up for the past season.

To Tim Creal, 1941 champ, went the top prize of four wood clubs, as well as a Hold-More traveling bag for first medal honors.

In the championship flight, runner-up prize of a jacket went to Dr. William Graves. Ken Barnhart received a club for consolation in this flight, while Bill Rice was given a glove for the runner-up consolation spot.

The second flight top prize of three woods went to Al Michell and the runner-up award of a golf bag to N. Drake. Todd Sigges took the consolation prize of a box of six balls, while R. Kridler was given runner-up prize of a glove.

In the third flight, the winner was A. C. Kirberger, Jr., who received a pair of shoes. Charles Blackman received the runner-up prize of a cigarette case. Consolation award of a rain jacket went to Robert Bloom and runner-up prize of a glove went to Ray Reed.

With summer-like weather prevailing, Harold Smith, professional at the country club, said this morning that it is expected that much more golf will be played.

LEAVES HOSPITAL

Mrs. Glenn Rhodes, has been removed from the Corry hospital to her home in Sugar Grove.

MORE PHONES IN USE

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co., reports an increase of 142,000 telephones in service in the principal phone subsidiaries included in the Bell system in September. It was the largest increase for any single month in the company's history.

MANY TEACHING JOBS

There are plenty of Pennsylvania teaching jobs going begging this year. Reports of county and district superintendents show 254 positions unfilled, 65 of them in the elementary grades, 51 in industrial arts field and 21 each in health and physical education and trade and industry, a dispatch from Harrisburg says.

SHOWERS WELCOMED

The showers of Friday and last evening were welcomed by farmers and garden owners, while they brought relief to blistered lawns which have suffered from the drought of the past few weeks. Many farmers of the section have had to haul water as their natural supply was exhausted by the protracted dry spell.

CHEST DRIVE OVER TOP

Countering any impressions Meadville might become a "ghost town" because its leading industry laid off 800 employees recently, officials have announced its community chest campaign, with a quota of $30,123 had been oversubscribed by nearly $1,000. The workers were dismissed by Talon, Inc., manufacturers of slide fasteners, because of a metal shortage due to defense priorities.

CAR STRIKES HORSE

A 14-year-old workhorse, one of five that escaped from a pasture and wandered onto the highway early Thursday morning, was struck by a car on Route 8 a half-mile south of Centerville and so seriously injured it had to be shot. The animal was owned by William Howard who lives on Route 8 and it was struck by a car containing two Oil City men in a dense fog about 4 a. m. in the morning. The front of the car was badly damaged.

SEN. DAVIS TO SPEAK

Senator James J. Davis has been secured as the principal speaker at the semi-annual convention of the Odd Fellows Association of Northwestern Pennsylvania, which is to be held at Emporium October 11, it has been announced. Plans are under way to take care of 800 members of the I. O. O. F. and Lady Rebekah lodges from the thirteen counties which comprise the district. The October meeting of the association last year was held in Warren.

ERIE HAS MONOPOLY

The city of Erie seems to have a monopoly on safe truck driving champions. Harold D. Wagner from that city won the 1941 title as Pennsylvania's safest truck driver in the annual contest finals conducted by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association at Indiantown Gap yesterday. He succeeds Chester Loper, also of Erie, who won in 1939 and 1940. The winner scored 90 out of a possible 100 points. He also won the semi-tractor trailer class and Benjamin F. Kay, of Philadelphia, had the best score in the straight truck class. Both men go to New York October 29 to compete in the national finals.

Protective reflectors molded of lucite resin now are mounted on approximately 500,000 automobiles in California, one of the first states to require these reflectors.

NOTICE

No. 23 December Term, 1941.

In the Court of Common Pleas of Warren County, Pennsylvania.

To Edgar C. Quinby, Lillian M. Quinby and Theo. W. Reuting, or their legal representatives, or whoever may be the holder or holders of the mortgage herein mentioned.

Take notice, that on September 26, 1941, Nellie A. Smith presented her petition setting forth that she is the owner, for and during her natural life, of all that certain piece of land situate in Eldred Township, Warren County, Pennsylvania, being part of Tract No. 99, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a post, the southwest corner of lands heretofore conveyed to James H. Carr, thence by the south line thereof south 87 rods to a post, the southwest corner of said Carr's land; thence south 3° west 43 rods to a post; thence by residue of tract north 87° west 188 rods to a post; thence north 3° east 43 rods to the place of beginning, and containing 50 acres of land, be the same more or less.

That an unsatisfied mortgage upon said premises remains of record in the Recorder's Office of said Warren County, given by Jensen Smith to Edgar C. Quinby and Lillian M. Quinby, dated January 6, 1902, and recorded in Mortgage Book 26, page 570 for $400 and interest; that said Edgar C. Quinby and Lillian M. Quinby sold and assigned said Bond and Mortgage to Theo. W. Reuting sometime prior to January 22, 1903, and that said assignment is not of record; that a period of twenty-one years has elapsed since said mortgage became due and payable, and no payment to apply thereon has been made within said period, and praying for satisfaction thereof.

Whereupon, said Court ordered this notice served upon the parties first above mentioned, requiring them to appear in said Court at 10 A. M., Oct. 28, 1941, to answer said petition, and to show cause why the proper decree should not be granted, and said mortgage satisfied.

New Memorial Books on Hunting and Fishing At Public Library

Hunting and fishing friends of Harold S. Wood have presented in his memory an unusual group of sporting books to the public library's Memorial Book Collection. These books on display this week and to be released for circulation Saturday morning are sure of receiving an appreciative reception by local hunting and fishing enthusiasts.

Raymond R. Camp, well-known among sportsmen for his daily column, "Wood, Field and Stream," in the New York Times, was urged by his hunting and fishing friends to tell anglers and hunters when, where and how they may find sport throughout the year. All Seasons Afield with Rod and Gun is the answer, as excellent in layout as in content. For at the end of each chapter on various types of game, he lists places to go and equipment needed for each.

Another newspaperman sportsman with two score years' shooting experience has written in simple, entertaining language a guide to American hunting, a practical study of wild life habits conservation, etc. Robert Vale's Wings, Fur and Shot is a pleasing mixture of experience and sound doctrine.

The Book of Fishes, edited by John La Gorce makes it easy for the fisherman to identify his catch, whether fishing in coastal or inland waters of North America. This extensive scientific and practical study gives the life story of 102 varieties of fish with 443 color plates and 162 photographs. It is a very valuable addition to the natural history collection of the library.

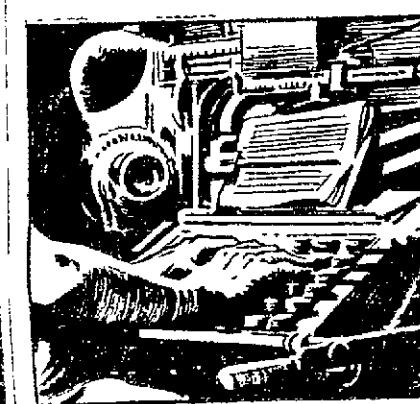

Luck in All Weathers presents in narrative form the personal adventures of the author's two favorite forms of recreation. Donald H. Haines presents his views also on how to preserve the zest and adventuresomeness of hunting and fishing, keeping them an unending source of pleasure.

Other friends of Mr. Wood presented Lee Wulff's Handbook and Freshwater Fishing and Arthur Peach's Country Rod and Gun Book. Mr. Wulff's handbook combines ancient lore with modern methods. It represents the accumulated knowledge of a man who has fished waters ranging from Alaska and Newfoundland and is highly respected by other experts. The other book was reviewed in a recent number of the Times-Mirror, but is also on display with "Al-though," as Lee Wulff says, "the mere perusal of a book will not make an accomplished angler it can direct the best course to a successful end and steer him away by paths that lead to difficulty and disappointment." This group of books seems to very successfully point the way.

Your Newspaper

It is the business of "make-up" men, under the direction of the make-up editor, properly to place the type after it has been set, column by column, in a rectangular metal "form." There is one form for each page. It takes great skill to fit the type into the form, together with metal "cuts" so etched that when printed they produce pictures, so that both exactly fit the available space. But The Times-Mirror make-up men solve this problem as a matter of course every day.

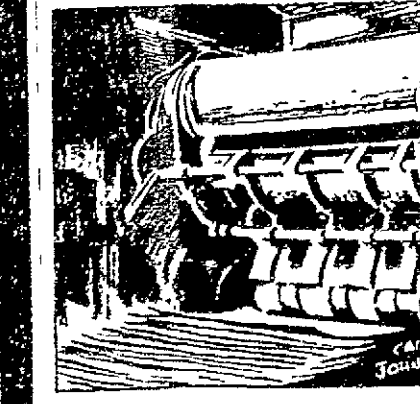

Vital to Times-Mirror daily production are the twenty members of its mechanical departments. During National Newspaper Week, we'd like to call attention to these men who actually make up your paper. Newspaper stories are set in type on a complicated machine which casts in metal a whole line of type. Above, you see a composing room operator's hands over the machine's keyboard. The Times-Mirror has six such machines.

When the type is all set and placed in the page forms, it is still not ready for printing. The forms are "locked up" tightly, then sent to the stereotypers. They make a matrix or "mat" by impressing an especially prepared paper composition sheet upon the type. This forms a mold, and when molten metal is poured onto it, makes a metal cast of the whole page, curved to fit The Times-Mirror "rotary" presses.

Because advertising copy requires a large number of unusual styles of type in many sizes, much of it is set by hand. "Character" (letter) by character, by highly trained compositors.

Now at last The Times-Mirror is ready to be printed. The casts are placed on the large press the last word in mechanical ingenuity. Here rollers ink the casts, which in turn print on fast-moving rolls of paper. Thus, as quickly as the most ingenious modern machines can print it, The Times-Mirror makes the news ready for delivery into your hands.

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Upon our arrival at Asheville, N. C., we were greeted by Sam Holt, chairman of the Southern Appalachian Tournament. This tournament proved to be one of the largest sectional contests ever held in the south.

Every event established new attendance records, and Sam almost reached his one big ambition when 86 pairs turned out for the open pair game. Although this event was 25 per cent larger than last year, Sam had hoped to have 100 pairs in the game.

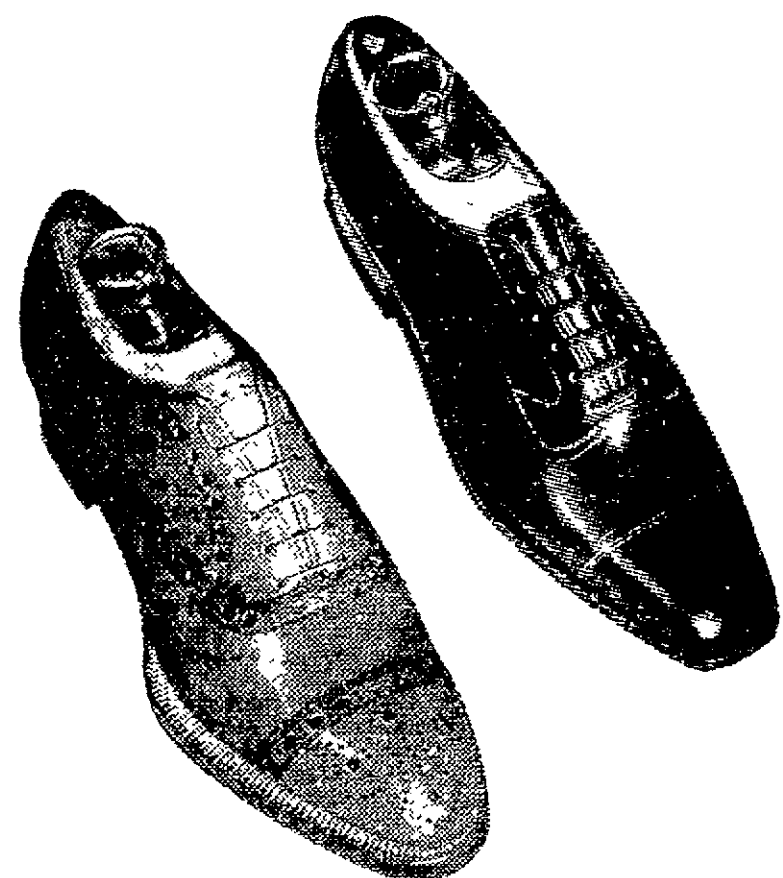

The open pair championship winners were Murray Gross of Asheville and Mrs. Milton Gross of Miami, Fla. On the night preceding the tournament, a practice game was held at Asheville. Twenty pairs entered and Mrs. Vernoff and her partner won the event.

She is a bold bidder, and psychic bids seldom deceive her, as she prefers to believe her partner rather than her opponents. The bidding on the hand shown here was more weird than wonderful. After Mrs. Vernoff (West) had doubled one diamond for a takedown, North decided to talk his opponents out of a spade game.

He knew whatever happened, he could always scramble back to safety in diamonds, so he made a psychic jump bid in spades. East promptly doubled, and South naturally showed his other suit. Mrs. Vernoff realized that her partner must have length in spades to double North's bid, so she co-operated in exposing the psychic bid by going to three spades.

It takes a lot of faith in your partner to bid a four-card suit for the first time at the level of three—while not mentioning a stronger six-card suit. North and South bravely tried to sacrifice at five diamonds but had to stop bidding when East went five spades. A club opening would have netted two tricks for the defense, but the actual diamond lead allowed Mrs. Vernoff to draw trumps and discard dummy's clubs on the long hearts.

Across the continent from Newfoundland to Alaska the Canadian Government is building an aerial military "highway," a chain of radio beacons 250 miles apart to guide bombers or fighters or interceptor planes crossing America in an emergency.

Recognition Of YWCA Helen E. Fufts Is Charter Member Is Wed On Saturday To Impressive Occasion Man From Meadville

An impressive event of the early fall season at the Y. W. C. A. activities building was the recognition of charter members, sponsored by the education committee of which Mrs. W. F. Bennett is chairman, and the board of directors, with various departments assisting.

The affair was held Saturday afternoon and opened with a welcome by the president, Mrs. Carl Lundahl, and a brief memorial service. Not only charter members but many others were present to pay tribute to those who pioneered in the association's work in Warren.

Beginning another year's work, Mrs. Lundahl asked for the continued interest of character and present members in the activities. Following Mrs. Lundahl's talk, Mrs. George Cowden gave the invocation and, in closing with a poem "Let the 'Y' live by the side of the road and be a friend to all," she expressed the earnest desire of not only the pioneer workers in the YWCA but the members and the community today.

Miss Ruth Cranley, a former YWCA secretary, read the names of the charter members included in the memorial service during the lighting of white candles, which was followed by the singing of "Follow The Glean" by a choir of Girl Reserves.

Through an oversight, the names of Mrs. Kate Brown Smith and Miss Agnes Snyder were omitted from the list appearing in the paper last week.

The fall flowers decorating the building so attractively with their variety of coloring were presented by Mrs. C. J. Cray and arranged by Mrs. W. O. Bennett.

Helen James Tells Of Coming Wedding

Mrs. Elmer James and Miss Dorothy Akers entertained at the former's home, 210 Orchard street, Saturday afternoon, the former announcing the coming marriage of her daughter, Miss Helen James, and Miss Akers complimenting the bride-elect with a linen shower.

Miss Helen has chosen October 25 for her marriage to William Goutley, of Jamestown, N. Y. A lovely pink and white cake bore announcement of the coming event and centered a pretty tea table. Tall candles and individual shell confections completed the appointments.

Guests were the Misses Phyllis Moore, Katherine Matthews, Nevee Mayralls, Marion Olson, Mary Jane Gray, Barbara Woodruff and Mrs. Ralph Akers.

D. A. C. Chapter Is To Be Entertained

NOTICE
Dr. R. L. Young's office will be closed until Oct. 13, 1941. 10-4-2t

In a simple candlelight service read at six o'clock Saturday evening in the North Warren Presbyterian church, Rev. J. H. Chick-shank united in marriage, Helen Elizabeth Fufts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Fufts, of North Warren, and David Milton Rosenberg, of Meadville. Mrs. Watson Jamieson played the traditional wedding selections.

The bride, attired in teal blue with brown accessories, was attended by Miss Jean Taggart, of Oil City, who wore an ensemble of brown. William Rosenberg, of Pittsburgh, was his brother's best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a delightfully appointed wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents, White petunias flanked by candles provided an attractive centerpiece for the bridal table.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brunner, of Oil City, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom; John Rosenberg, of Meadville; Howard Fufts, of Meadville, N. Y., uncle of the bride.

Following a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Rosenberg will reside at 376 Walnut street, Meadville, where the former has employment.

The bride, employed in Oil City for some time, has been complimented at a number of informal pre-nuptial parties in that city and here.

SEEK STOLEN CAR

Local police yesterday and today have been on the watch for stolen cars reported by New York state authorities. The car reported taken yesterday was later found near Stillwater. The machine sought this morning was said to have been taken by two Medford, N. Y., hold-up men. Although local police were on the lookout for some time, no trace of the car was seen.

Over a period of a half-hour Jose Bispo, Maragoges fisherman, asserted that after hearing the first shots Friday he climbed a low hill in an attempt to get a better view of the sea.

The firing had ceased when he reached the top of the hill, Bispo said, but he saw one ship about 20 miles to the southeast and a column of smoke from another vessel further away.

The nearest vessel was reported moving southward, and Costa said it apparently "was being pursued by the other, which, after attacking, halted the combat because they were approaching the shore."

Maragoges is about 74 miles south of Recife, easternmost port of Brazil. Reports that a naval battle had been fought off the jutting coastline had been current in Rio de Janeiro since Saturday.

In German-occupied France the execution of still another Frenchman, Rene Darreau, of Vendome, was announced. Some 70 Frenchmen now have gone before the firing squad, either as hostages or as the principals in military and political offenses against the occupying powers.

Darreau was convicted of possessing a revolver and 10 cartridges and it was said he had distributed anti-German leaflets. He was shot Saturday.

ALL-OUT PRICE CONTROL

The war industries board during the World War.

The "catastrophe" of inflation, Gore declared, "can be averted by half-hearted, piece-meal methods, or the 'business-as-usual' policies of political pussy-footing."

Saying it was necessary for the government to fight inflation "boldly and effectively on all major fronts," he said he proposed "an all-out effort to preserve our American economy and save our people from another cycle in which democracy would face grave internal danger."

CARS DAMAGED OVER WEEK-END

The local barracks of the state motor police reported three accidents over the weekend through out the county, in which damage ran high but there were no injuries.

Two cars were damaged shortly after noon yesterday to an estimated $150 at Torpedo when David Hardy, of Torpedo, operating one vehicle, pulled away from a gas station into the path of the car driven by Mrs. Charles Porterfield, of Franklin, who was enroute to Warren.

Three automobiles figured in a slight collision near Wilder Field about a mile west of Irvine, when Jack Chandlee, of Erie, stopped his car and was struck by Max Davis, of Youngsville, who in turn was hit by the car driven by Eddie Ustach, also of Youngsville. Damage in this accident was approximately $100 all told.

In the third mishap, which occurred about five miles west of Warren on the Scott overhead, Florence Dalky, of Erie, lost control of her car, hitting the wall of the overhead twice and then striking the car of Lloyd Grantham, Pontiac, Mich., who was driving west, the opposite direction from Miss Dalky. Damage was about $300, according to motor police.

Offer of Peace Predicted

The goal of the new drive, but Dienst Aus Deutschland, a commentary close to official circles, said the operations were so great as to be "similar to the opening of a new campaign."

There was speculation in London that the major objective was the Russian capital with the attack developing especially from the area of Rostov, about 230 miles southwest of Moscow.

The German high command, holding its counsel in customary fashion, devoted most of its communique to the Leningrad action, saying that Russian attempts to land strong forces west of that second largest Russian city had been crushed.

The Russian move on the outside of the Leningrad siege line apparently was timed with a German move on the inside, but the Germans said that it was shattered with "heavy and bloody losses" for the Russians.

On Germany's air fronts, the high command announced a Russian port on the sea of Azov was bombed, along with an important traffic junction west of Moscow and military objectives in Leningrad, a 2,500-ton British vessel was sunk 250 miles west of Brest, and British military emplacements were bombed in the Shetland Islands.

Some London war observers were inclined to ask whether the indicated Moscow push were not part of an elaborate sham to cover up the failure to take Leningrad "with the overwhelming swiftness" of which the high command once boasted.

London commentators expressed belief there was small chance of immediate change in the "stabilized" siege and defense at Odessa on the Black Sea—a city long since by-passed by the Germans' drive through the Ukraine.

Continued fierce German pressure towards the Donets basin and Kharkov in the eastern Ukraine was acknowledged but the subsidiary attempt to break into Crimea through the Percep Isthmus was said to have been eased by Russian counter-attacks on the German flank there.

Today's sheaf in the now daily crop of reports of unrest or actual rebellion among the German-conquered people of Europe was the Berlin radio's announcement that Otakar Klapka, mayor of Prague, had been executed for plotting a rebellion in the Reich's Czech protectorate of Bohemia-Moravia.

The sentence against him was a sequel to a similar verdict against the protectorate Premier Alois Elias whose appeal to the mercy of Adolf Hitler, so far as is known, still has not been decided.

Dispatches from Prague to Budapest said that synagogues in that protectorate capital had been closed by the Germans on charges that Jews had taken a special part in the wave of Czech unrest.

The synagogues were called meeting places for "aggressive influences."

In German-occupied France the execution of still another Frenchman, Rene Darreau, of Vendome, was announced. Some 70 Frenchmen now have gone before the firing squad, either as hostages or as the principals in military and political offenses against the occupying powers.

Darreau was convicted of possessing a revolver and 10 cartridges and it was said he had distributed anti-German leaflets. He was shot Saturday.

Filibuster In Senate

Against Change Is Seen

Designated as "combat areas" under the act.

Democratic Leader Barkley of the Senate, who is expected to be in the forefront of the administration fight for neutrality revision, told reporters he had no inclination as to what the president would recommend. Barkley, however, was believed to side with Connally in favoring a complete overhaul of the existing law.

Once the White House recommendations go to Capitol Hill, the prospect is uncertain.

"I do not know what is going to happen," remarked Senator Nye (R-ND), an opponent of administration foreign policy, "but I do know what happened to Wilson's bill. History could repeat itself."

On the other hand, Senator Clark (D-MO), a consistent "non-interventionist," told reporters that he had no intention of participating in a filibuster.

An Associated Press poll showed 29 senators in favor of repealing the neutrality law, and amending it to permit American ships to be armed and go anywhere; six in favor of arming the ships; 20 opposed to any change in the law; 18 desiring more time for study and 23 out of Washington or unavailable.

Of the total production of 1,532 rifles reported by the firearm industry to the Census Bureau, the last two Census of Manufactures, 783,732 were repeating rifles and 752,136 were single shot rifles.

Census figures indicate that American factories in the last few years have turned out more than a million electric kitchen ranges 2 1/2 K. W. and over.

Wyoming, the census shows, leads all the states in the average size of farms in 1940. There was sufficient area reported for each farmer to have a tract of 1,860 acres.

Dragons Score Easy 25-0 Victory Over Oil City Oilers

Thalk Up Nineteen First Downs; Show Powerful Offensive

Back in the stride which has brought them the reputation of being the finest team in years to lay for Warren High school, Coach J. B. Leidig's Dragons turned on the steam in three quarters against Oil City at Russell Field Saturday to set the visitors down or their thirteenth consecutive defeat in the past two seasons, 25-0. After a slow first quarter, which should have netted the locals at least one score, but failed to do so, the local Blue and White charges were still playing similar to their ragged exhibition at Russellville a week ago, the Leidig men went out and scored four times to cap their fifth successive decision in six starts this fall.

On the Oil City fifteen yard line is the opening chapter came to an end, Warren scored in four more plays with Bobbie Sedon hitting the center of the line for three yards and the first touchdown. Sedon's plunge to add the point, aided, but as the half was fading, the pass combination of Kifer and Sharp brought another score, with the dead-eyed southpaw whipping the ball into the hands of the center, Warren halfback who was in the end zone and free from the opposition. Adams couldn't reach Cobb's toss for the extra counter, but the winners had a comfortable lead by halftime.

Sedon struck in the third period after a successful drive by the Dragons had carried the ball fifty yards down the field. "Slim" hit center from the one yard line to go over. Kifer added the point and the Dragon powerhouse was still steaming.

The final counter came in the last period with Mike Bleech working the ball, almost single handed, down deep into Oiler territory, and then drilling a hole through the right side of the visiting line to bring the last touchdown. Scallie tried to make the point, but he was stopped at the line of scrimmage.

Outstanding in the game, was Albert "Slim" Salerno's 51-yard run after intercepting a pass in the second quarter. It set the second Warren six-pointer and was his most thrilling play of the game.

Warren showed the power they really possess against Oil City, and while the Oilers aren't too strong, at times they played exceptionally good ball against their neighborly opponents. The Dragon history was a loud warning to Jamestown that they may expect a bitter struggle next Saturday.

FIXING UP RUSSELL FIELD FOR PONY LEAGUE BASEBALL WOULD ALSO BENEFIT JACKETS WHO COULD PLAY NIGHT GAMES

As a sequel to our story Saturday night, in this pillar, concerning PONY league baseball, let us remind you that dressing up Russell Field to make organized ball possible in this town would not be the only gain made by citizens and sports fans if the plan materializes. For with lights around the park, it would give the Red Jackets a chance to bring night football to Warren grid spectators, and possibly even the high school teams would take to the owl game. This would create greater interest in sports, aid financially any team using the park, and lift the anchor on a new era for Warren. The value of organized baseball and of night contests to merchants and to the town can't be estimated, but it has been proved in several other cities that everyone gains where night athletic contests are part of the civic program. Since Saturday's paper hit the streets, we've heard a great deal of comment concerning PONY League ball, and if it is at all possible, the amount needed for lights and repainting the diamond, this town will have PONY League ball when May rolls around next spring.

Weekend grid highlights. . . For the first time this season, Mike Bleech, junior back of the Warren High Dragons, showed the ability he has as he tore through the Oil City line time and again in the fourth quarter to carry the ball down and into payoff dust. . . Leon Christiansen, Keith and Ken Patchen, and Tony Marasco all turned in some of the finest football they probably ever will play under Leidig or anyone else. . . The reason Warren's pass attack wasn't even more impressive was due to the fact that the ends were stopping half way out the line and the pigskin was sailing overhead time and again. . . But the Dragons bore out our prediction and then some, so we're not mad at anybody. . . The Jackets played fine ball and if you were one of those fans who stayed away because of a few threatening rain drops, you missed a fine defensive contest. . . Line work was impressive on both sides, but the local pass defense fell down at times. . . However, Trafford never got close enough to see the Jacket goal line, nor did he Jackets vice versa.

Quickies. . . If the Yankees are winning as you read this (or have on) and we hope they are, our forecast of this year's series bats 999. We'd have had a 1,000 percentage except we chose the third game of the one which dem beautiful Bums would win. . . They capped the second and upset our hope bucket. . . Have you noticed that every game has ended with total runs adding up to an odd number. . . If you're in any pools, you probably have, but definitely. . . Bill Rice had a sweet time yesterday telling about Bizzaro or someone making six yards around right end as Pete Reiser cleared the scoreboard for a home run. . . By the time the grid contest was over he wasn't sure whether it was Trafford 6, Brooklyn 0, or Warren 0, Yankees 7. . . Anyday, he killed two birds with one stone, or simpin', in a very capable manner. . . We're hooking up with the Dragons right now in their quest of another victory at Jamestown next Saturday. . . And, by the way, there are still a lot of people we'd like to hear from concerning PONY League ball.

GIANTS MAKING BID FOR YEAR'S PRO GRID CROWN

Chicago, Oct. 6.—(P)—Steve Owen's rejuvenated New York Giants are playing as if they want the thankless task of bucking the devastating Chicago Bears in the playoff for the National Professional Football championship.

Of course, neither team has yet qualified for the playoff, but off their early season performances they'll fight it out for the title now held by the Bears. The Giants lead the eastern division and the Bears top the western section, the only two unbeaten teams in the National League.

Their perfect records were challenged yesterday and both are expected in decisive fashion. The Pittsburgh Steelers, making their debut under Aldo (Buff) Donelli, formerly of Duquesne, held the Giants to a 10-10 draw for two and a half quarters, but then the Giants took charge for an ultimate 37 to 10 triumph.

The Bears pounded out a 48 to 21 victory over Cleveland after the Rams had tied the score early in the second period at 7-7. Washington, defending eastern champions, bounced back from last week's loss to the Giants by edging out a 3 to 0 victory over the previously undefeated Brooklyn Dodgers.

Green Bay rallied in the last quarter to score a touchdown for a 14-13 triumph over the Chicago Cardinals.

SHEFFIELD HIGH BEATEN 20-6 BY RIDGWAY ELEVEN

Sheffield, Oct. 6.—The Ridgway Hi Elks kicked far too much power for Sheffield's Wolverines here Saturday afternoon in the 18th renewal of the 1923-inaugurated football series between the two schools. In the presence of one of the largest crowds of fans to show up at a game here in several years, the visitors pounded out a 20 to 6 win over the Orange and Black.

It is taking nothing away from the Wolverines and the gallant fight they made to reveal that the game was not really as close as the two-touchdown margin in the score might appear to indicate. The veteran Ridgway varsity, a smartly-drilled combine featuring a rugged, hard-charging line in front of a capable backfield built around brilliant Co-Captain Bud Quiggle, versatile quarterback and mainstay of the team, registered all three of their touchdowns in the opening half and unquestionably would have added to the victors' point total had not Coach Sherman Stanford relegated Quiggle and other keymen to the bench for the remainder of the fray once the score had reached 20 to 0.

Only against the reserve-studded lineup which finished the game for the Elks could the Wolverines accomplish anything on the offensive. The Orange and Black's lone touchdown and four of their five first downs were recorded in the final half, the touchdown coming on the last play of the game. Ridgway notched 13 first downs, 9 in the opening half while the varsity was on duty.

Dodgers Groggy As Fifth and Possibly Last Series Fracas Is Played in Flatbush Today

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 6.—(P)—Yesterday these two things happened in Brooklyn:

A baseball writer, before hurrying to witness the fourth World Series game between his own Dodgers and the hated Yankees had to rush his wife to the hospital. There six stitches were taken in her arm—she had been spiked while playing football with the neighborhood children.

At approximately 4:45 p. m. with the Dodgers leading the Yankees by a score of 4-3 before 33,800 supremely happy Ebbets Field fans, with two Yankees out in the ninth inning and with two strikes on Tommy Henrich, feared Yankee slugger, Pitcher Hugh Casey of the Dodgers curved a curve that Henrich missed by close to a foot.

And here is the almost unbelievably assorted instances—the parallel being they could happen only in Brooklyn. Catcher Mickey Owen of the Dodgers failed to catch the ball, not only did he fail to catch it, but Owen, one of the finest receivers in baseball, permitted the ball to bounce off his mitt and roll close to the stands. Why, even Ernie Lombardi of the Cincinnati Reds would have caught that ball.

What happened after that shouldn't have happened even to a Dodger. President Larry McPhail of the Flatbushers, leaving the park some an hour later with his tears rolling down his cheeks, said, in fact: "I've been sitting in there saying to myself that this simply could not have happened. Maybe I dreamed it."

Let us not dwell upon the horrid details. As almost everyone knows by this time, the Yankees burst loose like skyrockets after that unhappy muff by Owen. Big, brawny persons bearing names like Joe DiMaggio, Charlie Keller and Joe Gordon slapped Hugh Casey silly bouncing balls repeatedly off the right and left field fences. And when the nightmare ended the Yankees were leading 4 to 4, held an impregnable-looking lead of 3 victories to 1 in the series, and the Dodgers and their supporters wanted to go off to some quiet spot and die.

There never was anything like it before in baseball, and, pray Abner Doubleday, there never will be again. It simply could not have happened, and yet it did. The only thing that made it believable was that on the previous day the Dodgers had been beaten because Freddie Fitzsimmons, considered the greatest fielding pitcher in baseball, had been struck on the knee by a ball batted by those same Yankees and deprived of a probable victory.

The result was that the Dodgers, after having put up a plucky fight, went into the fifth engagement at Ebbets Field today hanging on the ropes and about ready to utter those immortal lines: "Hully mom, I done by best but I lose."

Only once in the last 33 years, since the World Series became a seven-gamer, has a club arisen from a 1-3 deficit to win out. The Pittsburgh Pirates of 1925 did it in beating the Washington Senators, but it is to be doubted that anything so demoralizing happened to them at any time as befell our Dodgers yesterday.

In a desperate effort to pull the thing out, Pilot Leo Durocher of the Dodgers called upon Whit Wyatt, his veteran righthander, who lured the Yankees in the second game at the Stadium four days ago. That was short rest for a man of Wyatt's advanced years, great a pitcher as he undoubtedly is.

Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yankees pinched himself once more to see if it really were true and made a random choice of Ernie Bonham, a right hander with a lame back, to polish off the baddied flock. No doubt he recalled the four-hitter pitched by his Marius Russo, the boy with the light bounding stomach in the third game two days ago. These Yankee invalids will be the death of the Dodgers yet.

Jenkins, Cochrane In Feature Bout Tonight

New York, Oct. 6.—(P)—Promoter Mike Jacobs, having tried almost everything else, tonight presents a boxing card at Madison Square Garden on which two champions meet each other in the main event with neither title at stake.

Lev Jenkins, the frail looking power puncher from Sweetwater, Tex., who is the world lightweight boss, mixes for 10 rounds or less with Freddie Cochrane, the newly enthroned king of all the welterweights.

Although Cochrane will weigh about eight pounds more than the 135-pound Texan, Jenkins is the 5 to 8 choice of the betting fraternity.

Abe Simon and Turkey Thompson Mix Tonight

Hollywood, Oct. 6.—(P)—Enormous Abe Simon of New York aunts his huge frame through the ropes at the Hollywood baseball park tonight to meet young Turkey Thompson, Los Angeles negro heavyweight, in a bout billed for 10 rounds.

Big Abe, hoping to mop up on the 21-year-old Turk in a campaign aimed at getting a rematch with Champion Joe Louis, was a surprisingly slight favorite to win.

and coastal steamship lines under the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

Because of his social views his nomination to the court precipitated a scorching debate and protracted hearings. It was not until four months after his nomination was sent to the Senate on January 28, 1916, that it was confirmed by a vote of 47 to 22, with 27 not voting.

Brandeis was born in Louisville. He studied in schools there and in the Realschule of Dresden, Saxony, then the Harvard Law School. He practiced law in St. Louis in 1878 and moved next year to Boston.

He was married in 1891 to Alice Goldmark of New York. Their daughters, Mrs. Jacob Gilbert, a New York attorney, and Mrs. Elizabeth Rauschenbusch, a faculty member at the University of Wisconsin, were with him when he died.

President Roosevelt sent the jurist's widow a message of condolence which was not made public, and Charles Evans Hughes, who retired as chief justice earlier this year, telephoned from New York a statement saying that Brandeis had left his permanent impress upon our national jurisprudence.

ing of shades, says General McCain, and only a few qualify for the painstaking task. Old Glory's stripes still are cut by hand but a machine embroiders the stars—all of them solid silk.

The Philadelphia flagmakers put their best technicians to work on White House orders; the president as commander-in-chief of the army and navy may choose his personal flag, with its one white star in each corner. When a regiment sends in a faded, wind-tattered flag, the depot rebuilds it to look like new, usually by sewing new embroidery on the old field.

Though Betsy Ross might be surprised by the complex turn flag-making has taken, she'd find two of her namesakes—Cecilia M. and Mabel M. Ross—working in the Philadelphia quartermaster depot.

NINE NEW CASES OF POLIO ARE REVEALED

Harrisburg, Oct. 6.—(P)—The State Health Department received reports today of nine new cases of infantile paralysis in Pennsylvania, boosting the number of those stricken this year to 563 in 61 counties.

One case was reported in George's township, Fayette county, the first from that section. The other eight were in Blair, Lackawanna, Lehigh, Carbon and Berks counties.

Schools re-opened today in parts of Northumberland, Lancaster and Cambria counties today, removing the last restrictions imposed by the State Health Department on opening of schools because of the infantile paralysis outbreak which health officials declared was on the decline.

SMOKING STILL HOLDS LEAD AS CAUSE OF FIRE

Careless smoking continues to be the most frequent cause of fire, according to Fire Chief D. G. Kropf. This condition exists here in Warren as well as in all other parts of the United States, he declares.

For years, the most frequent cause of fire—and an avoidable cause it is, too—has been careless smoking," the Chief said today. "We had 5 fires here last year that were directly traceable to smoking, and throughout the nation, according to the National Fire Protection Association, there were about 87,000 similar fires, resulting in damage of about $14,000,000.

Second on the list are fires caused by sparks on roofs. In third position are fires resulting from defective or overheated chimneys and flues. The fourth major fire cause is defective electrical wiring and equipment. Spontaneous ignition fires, while only one-third as frequent as flue and chimney fires, caused nearly as much damage.

"It is important to consider these facts now for this is Fire Prevention Week. Practically all fires resulting from these five causes can be prevented. Such fires must be prevented if we are to conserve our resources for the national defense program," he concluded.

The approximate estimate of the number of fires and losses occurring annually are made by the National Fire Protection Association from reports of the Fire Marshals of the various states. The total damage for 1940 was about $300,000,000 and there were about 685,000 fires. Dwellings accounted for nearly 400,000 of these fires and almost one-third of the total loss.

Hiking Club Enjoys Interesting Outing

Twenty-one persons faced the uncertain weather of yesterday afternoon and enjoyed the second trip of the Allegany Hiking Club this season. There were six newcomers in the party.

The group drove to the Cherry Run road off the Barnes-Brookston route, following up this CCC road to the top of the ridge and turning right on the Fork Run road into the big timber, where many large cherry, pine and hemlock trees were observed. Turning left and going north for a short distance on a large pipe line, the hikers made a second left turn, going west and down the pipe line leading down Cherry Run with the innumerable crossings of that stream. Because of the extra traveling into the big timber this hike turned out to be a little longer than expected, reaching a distance of between eight and nine miles, but everyone apparently enjoying the trip.

LITERATURE ON Y. W. C. A. DRIVE IS DISTRIBUTED

General Chairman Conarro of the Y. W. C. A. Emancipation Campaign, which opens a week from tonight, in commenting this morning on the folder "A Project Which Concerns Our Entire Community" states that upward of 2500 copies were mailed last Friday and Saturday to prospective givers. He said that facts set forth briefly therein should be read carefully and that it was his conviction that if this is done by all who have received the folder, the response on the part of the public will bring desired success to the intensive effort which will be made next week to free the Y. W. C. A. of its mortgage indebtedness.

In reply to inquiries received at campaign headquarters, regarding the history of the mortgage, Mr. Conarro stated that the mortgage from the outset has been held by one of our local banks, and at no time did any individual have any money invested in the mortgage.

Campaign Headquarters gave out the information this morning that the following ladies, whose names were not included in the published roster of the campaign organization, have been added:

Team No. 53—Mrs. Harold W. Blair, captain; Mrs. Merton Irvine. Team No. 54—Mrs. Palmer L. Davis, captain; Mrs. A. C. Flick. Team No. 64—Miss Ruth E. Woodin, captain; Mrs. August A. Keller.

SCOUTER GIVEN RECOGNITION AT LUDLOW RALLY

Featuring the recognition of an outstanding Scouter and an interesting fire-side chat by Archaeologist Wesley Bliss, Ludlow District Scouters met Saturday in their annual Scouters Rally at Scoutdale near Ludlow. Walter Cox, District chairman, acted as chairman of the meeting.

A Scout statuette and a purse were presented to Carl M. Jones, who until early this year was Scoutmaster of one of the troops. Jones had served as a Scoutmaster in a very effective way for the past seven years and sometime ago was awarded the Scoutmaster's Key by the local council. The statuette was presented by Mr. Cox and tributes of recognition were paid him by Bernal Connolly, member of the Ludlow District Scout Committee, and Calvin Hall, Scout executive.

Dr. Wesley Bliss who is in charge of the work of the Pennsylvania Archeological Survey in this section described his work that has occurred here in the past few months and related his experiences in other sections of the world as an archeologist.

Twenty-three Scouters from Ludlow attended the rally which was acclaimed their best in recent years.
